PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY IN THE YEAR.

VOLUME XXXVII

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1918

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Capt. Parker Easley and Lieut. Banchee have returned to Ft. Thomas, near Newport, after a visit to friends in Paris and Clintonville.

Private Virgil Harney has returned to his army duties at Camp Custer, near Detroit, Mich., after spending a few days in Paris and the county with friends and relatives.

Private Clifton Arnsperger, who is stationed at Fort Hamilton, New York, is in Paris on a furlough for a visit to his mother, Mrs. Clifton Arnsperger, and his brother, Mr. Will S. Arnsperger, on Mt. Airy avenue.

Private Homer Snapp has returned to Camp Zachary Taylor, after a visit to friends and relatives near Clintonville. Private Brown Buchanan, of the same vicinity, writes to friends and relatives there that he is now at Camp Mills, New York, with the rest of the Dr. Barrow Base Hospital Unit.

Mr. Edward Fitzpatrick, former attaché of THE NEWS, who is now in the navy, writes to a member of THE NEWS force that he is stationed in the Norfolk Navy Yard temporarily, while his ship, the Mississippi, is in dry dock. Fitz states that the boys are very anxious to get out to sea again, as being landlubbers doesn't agree with them.

Dr. J. T. Brown and Dr. J. A. Orr, of Paris, received telephone orders Wednesday to hold themselves in readiness to take service in the Medical Reserve Corps of the army. They volunteered their services some weeks ago at a meeting held here. They have both received their commission. Dr. Brown with the rank of Captain. They do not know as yet to where they will be sent.

The first man to enlist in the army service from the Forks of Elkhorn section of Scott county was Mr. John W. Burden, a son of Rev. John H. Burden, who formerly resided in Paris. Young Burden has been promoted twice since he has been in the service, being first a corporal, and the second promotion to that of sergeant. He is a member of Co. M., 54th Infantry, stationed at Camp Wadsworth, near Spartansburg, S. C. He has been in the service for over a year.

W. O. Pennington, formerly of Paris, who has been in the naval service on the battleship Oklahoma and Mississippi, returned yesterday morning to Richmond, Va., where he will report to the naval military police for duty. Mr. Pennington has been in Paris for several days as a guest of his father, Mr. W. H. Pennington, and other relatives. During his stay Mr. Pennington presented THE NEWS man with a fine lot of post card marine views and souvenirs of life in the navy.

Mr. W. C. Dodson, of Paris, received a letter Wednesday from Private Robt. W. Talbott, formerly of Paris, who is a member of Co. D., 54th Infantry, stationed at Camp Wadsworth, Spartansburg, S. C., in which he stated that he was receiving THE NEWS regularly, and enjoyed reading every line of it. He said that the camp was a scene of great activity these days, as preparations seemed to be making for moving a large number of men "somewhere," he knew not where.

The following appeared in the Winchester correspondence of the Lexington Herald, Wednesday: "Ford Fithian, of Charleston, W. Va., who was married to Miss Josephine Crone, of this city, has been called in the draft, and will leave Friday for camp. He and Mrs. Fithian are in Paris this week, where he will make an attempt to be transferred to the Paris Board. During his absence, Mrs. Fithian will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crone."

Mr. Earle Adams Clark, editor of "Trench and Camp," the official army camp publication at Camp Zachary Taylor, was a caller at THE NEWS office yesterday. Mr. Clark, though in the service, does not yet bear an official title, but is, nevertheless a good soldier. His paper is a neatly gotten up publication, devoted to the doings of the soldier boys at Camp Taylor. Mr. Clark was enroute to the camp from a visit to friends in Carlisle. His train being late he spent a few hours in seeing Paris, which he pronounced a "pretty little town."

Corporal Grover C. Case, formerly of Millersburg, and at one time connected with one of the telephone companies in this city, who is now stationed at Camp Wadsworth, S. C., sends THE NEWS the following original poem:

THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME
Darling, when I am far away in France
I ask you to always think of me and pray
That I may have a chance.
To leave you, darling, was hard, the hardest thing of all.
But I am no slacker when I hear my country call.
To be at home with you, little girl it is happiness that is true.
But I can't see the Germans down the Red White and Blue.
Don't think this strange, little girl,
And his happiness will be lost.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

The regular meeting of the Paris City Council was held last night with a full membership present.

The first business taken up was a communication to the Council from Mayor January stating that he had vetoed the ordinance referring to the restrictions on granting building permits, fixing minimum costs on the construction of buildings, fixing the fire zone, etc. Motion to accept communication and veto carried by a vote of 5 to 2. Mayor January gave as his reason for vetoing said ordinance was that he thought it was unconstitutional and had gotten the opinion of the Attorney General on the question, as well as the sense of a majority of the citizens, who did not approve of it.

A motion was made to accept the Mayor's veto, and upon a vote the motion was lost by a vote of 4 to 3. Voting "No" were Arkle, Christman, Doyle and Veatch; those voting "Yes" were Merringer, Kiser and Nichols.

The matter of the sidewalk improvement on East Seventh street was deferred until next meeting with instructions that City Attorney Dundon prepare an ordinance to fit the case and present same for passage at the next meeting.

A communication addressed to the Council of Defense of Bourbon County from the State Board at Louisville was read and received. The communication requested the city to not make any unnecessary improvements on the streets or city property or encourage any unnecessary use of material or labor, to conserve in every way possible so as to aid the war as far as possible.

Another communication was received and recorded, which came from the property owners of Duncan avenue. The citizens stated their willingness to pay their proportion toward the construction of a new asphalt street for that thoroughfare. A motion carried that will start this work at once—the Council deeming this work as essential and badly needed. The street will extend from Pleasant to Vine.

Motion to require property owners abutting along the sewer system to tap said sewers, was carried.

Summer uniforms were ordered purchased for the firemen. Those bought for the police will arrive this week.

Motion for placing electric fan in Council Chamber was lost.

Communication from office of Road Commission stating that no oil for the purpose of setting the dust could be furnished. No oil only for the preservation of roads that actually required it could be had.

Police telephone boxes reported as on road from Chicago, and same should be installed shortly.

A motion was carried requiring all police to register arrests made when retiring from duty at night and morning.

An ordinance requiring retail furniture houses to pay a license of $35 per annum was passed.

The City Health Officer's salary was placed at $400 per annum, as it formerly was, with additional pay for extra services.

BIG STORM EXPLAINS OUR RECENT COOL SPELL.

High winds, following heavy rains all of Wednesday and Tuesday night, caused thousands of dollars damage to crops in Eastern Kentucky, according to reports reaching Whitesburg. Corn especially suffered heavy damage. In some sections the damage, it is said, will cut the prospects nearly one-half. Mountain streams are running for the first time in several weeks.

Make your own love true,
Greet the boy in khaki when he comes
Marching home to you.
Throw your arms around him, let him
Kiss your sweet lips.

And he will joyfully tell you all
About his wonderful trips.
I would like to be with you often
These beautiful, happy days,
But now it makes me blue to think
You are so far away.

Some day in the future this great war
Will end.
And the soldier boy who loved you
Will come to you again.
It is the duty of every girl who is Left behind
To always remember the boy she loved.

Who is on the firing line.
He did not want to leave you, for
He's going to risk his life.
But he is a true American upholding
The Stars and Stripes.

I told you when I kissed you on
Those lips of yours so sweet
That I was going to leave you
And again we may never meet.
Don't give up, my darling, if you
Love me you will wait.

If we don't meet again on this earth
We'll meet at the Golden Gate.
Some girls are not so patient
And will not wait so long.
They will go and love a slacker
When their soldier boy is gone.

When he goes to fight his battle
For his country and for you,
His heart is always resting
On the one he thinks is true.
When he returns in years to come
And finds that you was false
His whole life will be ruined.
And his happiness will be lost.

TWENTY-SEVEN DRAFTEES FOR FOOD ADMINISTRATION ISSUES SWEEPING SUGAR ORDER

To-day, Friday, June 28, will mark an event in the lives of twenty-seven young white men of Bourbon county, who, by the time this paper is on the streets, will be enroute to Camp Zachary Taylor, near Louisville.

These young men are members of the selective draft recently ordered by the Provost-Marshal General. Bourbon's quota, being placed at twenty-seven, with three alternates to act in case there should be any delinquents. They are all representative of the best citizenship of the city and county, and after they have received their military training, will make good soldiers.

Pursuant to instructions issued them by the local Board of Exemption, the "boys" assembled at the court house yesterday afternoon, and reported at four o'clock to the Board of Exemption, when they were given their final instructions and provided with cigarettes, tobacco and other articles that will be of use to them.

At 5:30 yesterday afternoon the young men were guests of the city at a supper given at Crocodile's Cafe, where they were regaled with good things to eat and made to feel at home. Addresses were made by several Paris speakers.

At seven o'clock this morning the young men re-assembled at the court house, where they formed in line, and preceded by the Liberty Drum and Bugle Corps, the Board of Exemption officials, and citizens, they marched to the Tenth street passenger station of the Louisville & Nashville, where they entrained for Camp Zachary Taylor. The train on which they left carried several hundred selectives, coming from different counties in Central Kentucky. Those who left this morning were:

Harry Hubble Chinn, (Captain.)
Leslie B. Fitzpatrick.
Willis Keith.
Rolla Helthenstine.
Will Rhorer.
Ernest Watson.
Robert Thompson Evans.
Homer J. Hornback.
Wallas Hibler.
Herman Faulconer.
Carl A. Schrote.
Jake Earlywine.
Walter Johnson.
Wm. Everett Fryman.
W. H. Dearing.
Allen Curtis.
Bernard J. Santen.
Edgar Ward.
Clarence Rogers.
George Fisher Collins.
George Hugh Blythe.
Roger Bivins.
Stanley Jones Young.
Justice Lee Guthrie.
Sam McLain.
George Carter.
Edward John Woods.
McClure Crouch.
Wm. J. Gorey, (volunteer.)

Interested parties in this city have been advised of the action of Mr. William Simms, of Lexington, District Food Administrator, in issuing the following order, which was transmitted to Mr. Lawrence Mitchell, Bourbon County Food Administrator, in which they are advised of the necessity of taking out licenses for handling sugar. The order is as follows:

"TAKE NOTICE!"

"All users of sugar in any form of manufactures, hotels, restaurants, dining cars, public institutions and public eating places generally, bakers and cracker makers and others selling for consumption:

"TAKE NOTICE!"

"Every person in the above list must, before the first of July next make a statement and make a return upon a form which will be provided him, giving the information requested by the Food Administration. Failure to do so will deprive such person of the right to produce or to use sugar."

The failure of the Louisiana sugar crop, the reduction in the amount of sugar importations, due to the shortage of shipping and the destruction of sugar stores in France and Italy have decreased the available supply to such an extent that only the most careful use will prevent famine before the new crop becomes available.

To obtain justice in the distribution of sugar and to make the restrictive plans as effective as possible no manufacturers or wholesalers will be allowed after July 1 to sell any sugar except to buyers who present certificates from the sugar division of the United States Food Administration at Louisville, indicating quantity they may buy. Heavy fines for the violation of the regulation is provided and the dealers' license may be revoked and his stock confiscated if the Food Administrator discovers that he is not living up to the spirit of the regulation.

KIMBALL'S CANDIDACY COMES AS SURPRISE TO JAMES' FRIENDS

The friends of Senator James were greatly surprised when they learned that Pres Kimball, of the Seventh District, had filed his declaration to be a candidate against Senator James for the nomination of United States Senator. They interpreted the action of Mr. Kimball to mean, in part, that in the event the physical condition of Kentucky's senior Senator would place him out of the running, a thing that is most unlikely, he would have clear sailing to obtain the Democratic nomination.

Reports received from Baltimore, where that the Kentuckian is much improved. The acute attack of nephritis and rheumatism from which the distinguished patient has been suffering has disappeared. As soon as Senator James regains his strength he will leave the hospital.

THE W. S. STAMPS MASS MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.

There have been mass-meeting and parades in Paris, but Roxie Davis, the chief parader of them all, says that the one which will take place this afternoon, will be one that will eclipse any ever given in this city or the county. And Roxie knows.

Preceding the big mass-meeting, which will be held in the court house at three o'clock this afternoon, the big parade, which has been in the process of "making" for several days, will take place. The different divisions have been assigned positions, and the chairman of each has been given specific instructions by Grand Marshal Davis. The parade will form on the court house square at two o'clock, when the chairmen are expected to have their charges well in hand and take the positions to which they have been assigned. The chairmen have been urged to see that all is in readiness for an instant's start, when the word is passed along the line of march.

The line of march will be south on High street, east on Ninth street, north on Main street to the court house, where it will disband. The Grand Marshal will be assisted in managing his parade by a long list of assistants, who were designated in a previous issue of THE NEWS.

The mass meeting at the court house is expected to bring a large outpouring of people, who must be interested in the success of Bourbon county in the drive for the sale of the county's quota in this campaign. An excellent musical program, in which the Community Chorus will participate, will be rendered. Addresses will be made by Rev. F. M. Tindler, and other well-known local speakers. Every patriotic man and woman in the county should make it his or her duty to attend this meeting, which will be held for the purpose of creating enthusiasm and interest in the campaign, which closes with this day's work. Bourbon must secure its quota, in order to keep up the good record it has made in the past in never falling in any phase of war activity it has undertaken.

The following is the order in which the different divisions will appear in the big parade, which will be one of the chief features of the closing day of the campaign:

Police Escort, Chief of Police Fred Link, Chairman.
Liberty Drum Corps.
Boy Scouts.
Soldiers.
Soldiers' Tobacco Fund, Pearce Patton, Chairman.
Red Cross Nurses, Mrs. G. W. Clay, Chairman.
Ambulance of J. T. Hinton Co.
Ambulance of G. W. Davis.
Honor Guard Girls, Mrs. Edward Spears, Chairman.
Lady Horse Back Riders, Mrs. J. H. Thompson, Jr., Chairman.
Red Star Society, Dr. H. M. Hamilton, Chairman.
City Officials in Autos, Mayor E. B. January, Chairman.
Fire Department, Chief Ullman Lancaster, Chairman.
County Officials in Autos, Judge Geo. Batterton, Chairman.
County Food Administration, Lawrence Mitchell, Chairman.
Fuel Administration, J. H. Thompson and H. B. Fithian, Chairmen.
Liberty Loan, Withers Davis, Chairman.
Red Cross Society, Mrs. M. H. Dalley, Chairman.
Y. M. C. A., H. A. Power and T. H. Clay, Jr., Chairmen.
Knights of Columbus, E. M. Costello, Chairman.
Patriotic citizens in autos, every one is a committee of one.
Patriotic colored citizens, Prof. F. M. Wood, Chairman.
Mr. Rudolph Davis, who will be the Grand Marshal of the parade, will be assisted by Deputy Sheriff J. O. Marshall, Dr. H. M. Hamilton, Frank P. Kiser, John F. Davis and Sheriff Wm. G. McClintock and Postmaster J. Walter Payne.

NOTED CASE ENDED.

The action of the Court of Appeals in the case of Clay vs. Clay from the Bourbon Circuit Court, which was decided by the Court last week, brings to an end litigation that has been in the courts for a long while. The suit was originally brought to recover possession of a farm of three hundred acres lying on the Winchester pike, which had been sold by George Clay to S. Brooks Clay. The case has been in the Court of Appeals for some time and was settled by the suit of H. Clay Howard as committee of George Clay against Brooks Clay to recover the farm being dismissed. The mandate of the Court was forwarded to Mr. Brooks Clay's attorneys, Messrs. Talbott & Whitley, in this city, by the Clerk of the Court.

ON TO CAMP BOONE.

The time has once more rolled around for the week's camp at Camp Daniel Boone, the Y. M. C. A. camp on the Kentucky River at Valley View. Unless you have attended one of these camps you cannot realize the beauties of the surrounding scenery, the good games of baseball, tennis, etc., that are held daily, and also the good eats. Then the diving and the swimming are feature of the camp. The camp is for boys twelve years old and over. The Paris and Bourbon county boys will leave Monday, July 1. Call the Y. M. C. A. for particulars.

220,000 MORE MEN ARE ORDERED OUT JULY 22-25.

As a further step toward carrying out the War Department's plan to have 3,000,000 men under arms August 1, Provost Marshal General Crowder, Monday, called on all governors of all States except Arizona and Illinois for the mobilization between July 22 and 25 of 220,000 white draft registrants qualified for general military service.

This call is expected to exhaust the number of men in Class 1, available for active military service, and when added to school requisitions of 23,246 men brings the total calls so far announced for July to 243,463. To complete its program for the remainder of the present year the department will have to depend on the 400,000 Class 1 registrants expected from the June 5 enrollment and the 250,000 or 300,000 to be obtained through reclassification now in progress.

In the call announced New York leads the list with 22,241 men; Iowa is second with 17,649, and Wisconsin is third with 13,200.

Kentucky is called on for 4,100 who will go to Camp Taylor. In addition to these 7,700 men from Indiana and 5,200 from Wisconsin will be sent to Camp Zachary Taylor.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY KENTUCKY UTILITIES CO AT LOUISVILLE MEETING

BE IT RESOLVED, By the Kentucky Association of Public Utilities, in special meeting assembled at Louisville, Ky., on this, 23 day of April, 1918, as follows:

(1) That it is the sense of this meeting that Federal regulations of freight rates, cost of fuel and prices of certain materials, required by public utilities, coupled with the fact that the speeding up of the war program is dependent upon the ability of our several utilities to render proper service, makes our public utility problems national rather than local in character.

(2) That the increase in freight rates, labor, fuel and supplies, during the last three years, and particularly during the past year, has become so burdensome that it is apparent that an emergency exists, requiring public utility commissions and other rate-making bodies, to make a general order, permitting utilities to attach riders to bills rendered on present schedules to cover unavoidable increase in operating expenses during the present crisis without requiring an appraisal of public utility properties, which would entail great expense upon both the public and the utilities, and merely serve to delay the relief so much needed at this time.

(3) That equitable rates should be fixed at this time, based upon the present market, prescribing some automatic scheme that will lower the rates when lower markets are obtained.

(4) That the chairman of this meeting be, and he is hereby, authorized to appoint a committee for the purpose of compiling information touching the operation of the public utilities of the State of Kentucky, with authority to act in conjunction with similar committees representing public utilities in other States, in order to properly present the needs of the public utilities of the Nation to the representatives of our Federal Government, as well as to local authorities. That it is the sense of this meeting that said committee should deal with all problems now confronting operators of public utilities as war problems to be handled as a part of the Nation's war program.

(5) That said Committee to be appointed by authority of these resolutions should give prompt support to National Committees in their efforts to secure the following: (a) Rates sufficient to absorb the increased cost of production service; (b) Relief during the period of the war of all non-essential and unproductive requirements, such as paving, underground wires, duplication and unnecessary extension of service; (c) Some practical method or plan for financing public utilities as a part of the Nation's war program; (d) Some practical plan or scheme for putting into effect equitable rates based upon the present market, prescribing some automatic scheme that will lower the rates when lower markets are obtained.

SNEAKS AT WORK.

Thieves entered the home of Mr. Will H. Whaley, at the junction of the Bethlehem and Lexington turnpikes, just outside the city limits of Paris, one night recently, and abstracted a pocket-book, belonging to a young man on the place named Delaney. Nothing else about the place was disturbed. The money represented the savings of several months, and had been placed in the pocket-book of young Delaney, with the intention of bringing it to town and placing it in a bank. But the thief evidently got wind of the presence of the money in the house, and made a clean sweep. No clue.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS.

Good Old Summer Time.

Could the fabled land of Paradise be much more fairer than is the country around Paris just at this time of the year? Perhaps the long and tedious winter through which we passed some time ago has heightened our appreciation of this season of bud and blossom, for we enjoy all things by contrast, and perhaps this passing from the snow and the cold of winter to the warmth and verdure of summer at a single bound, almost, is unprecedented in the memory of even "the oldest inhabitant." It produces an unwonted thrill of pleasure.

At any rate they may talk of the purple haze of Italy, the vine-clad hill of France, the sea-green tints of the Emerald Isle, the quiet lanes of England, fragrant with their blossoming hedgerows; but whoever will rise early enough these mornings and get out into the country around Paris will not exchange it for any of them, and besides they can get the essence of all these things, and not go out of the good old county of Bourbon.

No sea-grit island can boast a fresher green than can our foliage and grass after the recent life-giving rains. The air is vocal with the songs of birds and odorous from the blossoming trees. Flowers of every hue are in full bloom everywhere, springing from their retreats to bring to our hearts bright promise for the morrow. All Nature seems in unison with life and hope.

Come, then, all those who are in despair and sorrowful. There is a feast spread out for you just for the taking. It is yours without price. Don't spend these precious mornings tossing on your couch, hoping the doctor will find a panacea for your ailment, or that something will turn up to dissipate the gloom.

Go out to meet these healing, inspiring influences which Nature is providing for your relief. Open your lungs and hearts to her sweet breath and words of cheer, and a balm more potent than any ever patented by man. Take a boat ride up beautiful Stoner, if you want to get something of the joy of life in your veins. You will be glad that you are alive, and in this county, and that it is such a beautiful season of the year.

The Bluegrass Crop.

The bluegrass season just closed has been practically a successful one in Bourbon county. This county, as much as any other in Central Kentucky, has at all times, been at the head of this industry, one which has in its scope taken in many foreign countries for its market before the war.

When the farmer wishes to save seed from his blue grass fields he takes the stock out of the fields early in May. The seed is generally ready for the harvest early in June. The harvesting is done by "strikers," which are either horse-drawn machines, with rollers on them which strip off the heads and dump them into carriers, or small hand machines. The operation is familiar to most everyone. Most of the seed is gathered, of course, by the large machines, but when labor was plentiful, boys, and even men and often girls, made good wages gathering the seed by means of the small hand strippers.

After the heads are stripped out they must be spread out to dry. This work is usually done in a large field, the seed being raked into long rows.

They are stirred frequently with forks or rakes until ready for the sacks, when the seed is sent to the cleaning plants. Eight to ten days are required usually to dry the seed sufficiently and its vitality is largely dependent upon the care that is exercised during this drying period.

Bluegrass seed seldom contains any great quantity of weed seed, but, of course, has some. At the early date at which the seed is harvested few weed seeds are ripe, but the farmer who is saving seed owes it to himself and to the other farmers to see that the fields from which he gets the seed are as free as possible from weeds. After the seed is harvested stock is turned in the fields to eat down the grass remaining.

A visit to the fields during the bluegrass seed harvest is one of the most interesting sights a layman could witness. It is a scene of activity from morning to night. Often at night the men, who camp in the fields where they have been working through the day, entertain the visitors with music, songs, dancing and other forms of amusement that prove enjoyable.

A Season For Harvests.

Not all the wheat in this county is in the shock, but a great deal of it has been taken in under skies which threatened just enough to make the harvesters hurry, and under a sun which turned the emerald fields to gold fast enough to bring the binders to the field a trifle earlier than usual. One of the greatest drawbacks to the growing of small grain is the frequency of protracted wet weather in June and the tendency of wheat and oats to fall down under the weight of water. Much of the harvesting has been done under favorable conditions, and a drive along the roads in any direction from Paris or from any other Central Kentucky city will show such a wealth of grain that the beholder will be astonished. The yield this season indicates that old Bourbon county is going to have some hand in swatting the Kaiser and his hordes by furnishing a large proportion of the staff of life for consumption of our soldiers and the Allies.

Clean 'Em Up!

Many back yards are an abomination to the eye and nose. One finds in them all sorts of litter and refuse, from oyster cans to old boots. Here the slops of the kitchen are poured to increase the odor which ought to warn every thoughtful person of malarial influence breeding there, to break out eventually in fevers or diphtheria. If a member of the family dies from one of these diseases, his death is probably lamented as a "mysterious dispensation of Providence," but the minister would say if he were to visit the back yard, that death was caused solely by a violation of the hygienic laws.

Mercy to Dumb Animals.

If everyone who owns or cares for dogs would see to it that the animals have plenty of water to drink during the summer months there would be fewer cases of rabies. There are doubtless hundreds of people to whom this simple precaution never occurs, and who just take it for granted that their canine friends can, of course, find water somewhere whenever they are thirsty. This applies to other animals as well, but dogs are the principal sufferers.

ALL MUST BE ACTION.

After all has been said and done, this war is plainly a survival of the fittest. Fine sentiment and fine feelings will not win. There is but one road and that is to become more powerful than the enemy. It is might and nothing but might. The last ounce of strength must be put into the contest. What each individual gives counts in forming the grand aggregate, which, if large enough, will win. If the armies of our Allies and our own can hold out and still have considerable more power left until the foe exhausts his forces, we will win. If we cannot hold out until this time arrives, we lose. The importance, then, of adding every bit, no matter how small, is apparent. Every little added, be it food, money or man power, makes just that much more and altogether will make the grand total which, from sheer might, will win.

Hesitation, dawdles and delays must be swept aside. All must be action—intense, constant, never-ceasing action—bold and intrepid, striking straight for the goal—an army and a navy of strength, such as is inconceivable to our present state of mind—must be the object of our people.

The most direct way for you and every other man, woman and child to commence to add your might to the grand total of might which this nation must bring to bear, is for you to put every cent of money you can in War Savings Stamps.

WILL FORM PAPER CONSERVATION SECTION.

The War Industries Board will form a paper section to handle all matters relating to the paper industry. Conservation plans are now being worked out by the Board and the Fuel Administration. It is said the entire industry will be reorganized with conservation the chief factor. Officials say it is not likely there will be any curtailment of the news print industry, but other branches will come in for curtailment or readjustment.

GOVERNMENT MELTS 30,000,000 SILVER DOLLARS.

About 30,000,000 silver dollars have been melted into bullion or mutilated by the government under the new silver act, the Treasury has reported. Negotiations are under way with the British government and other allies for export of the metal to be used in coinage.

Printing of new Federal Reserve Bank notes of $1 denomination to replace the withdrawn silver will start soon.

NOTICE!

Bids Received Up Until Noon, July 5, 1918,
on Building
Sanitary Sewers
Paris, Bourbon County,
Kentucky.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Mayor of Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, up until 12 o'clock, noon, for the furnishing of materials and constructing a system of sewer of about two miles of pipe ranging from 8 inches to 15 inches in diameter, together with manholes and necessary appurtenances.

JULY 5, 1918,

Alternate bids will be received for this improvement, viz:

FIRST—For furnishing of all labor and materials to complete the work.
SECOND—For furnishing the necessary labor (hauling all materials from the railroad siding to the site of the work), teaming, tools, etc., and making the necessary excavation, laying pipe, constructing manholes, etc.

THIRD—For furnishing all materials, sewer pipe, iron pipe, cement, brick, etc., F. O. B. cars, Paris, Bourbon County, Ky.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the City of Paris, Ky., for a sum of 5% of the amount of the bid. Certified checks accompanying rejected proposals will be returned.

If any proposal be accepted the party or parties making the same shall execute the contract and furnish the required bond, satisfactory to the City of Paris, within ten (10) days after receiving notice. For failure so to do, the certified check which accompanied the proposals will be forfeited to the City of Paris.

All bids shall be in accordance with the plans and specifications for the work on file at the office of the Mayor at Paris, Ky., and at the office of J. A. Stewart, Civil Engineer, No. 1,113 Traction Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, from whom copies of said plans and specifications may be obtained by making a deposit of $5.00 which amount will be refunded upon return of same on or before the 15 day of June, 1918.

The City of Paris, Ky., reserves the right to reject any part of a proposal or any and all proposals.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT

Mike Stathis Plaintiff

Vs.—Notice of Sale.

Angel Panetos Defendant

Under and by virtue of a judgment and order of sale rendered at the June term, 1918, of the Bourbon Circuit Court, the undersigned Master Commissioner, on at about the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., in the restaurant room of the Fordham Hotel, on Main Street, in Paris, Ky., will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, so much of the following described property to satisfy twice the amount of plaintiff's judgment, interest and costs, to-wit:

All of first party's interest, being one-half, in all the property consisting of and used in the restaurant business by first party at the Fordham Hotel building, Paris, Kentucky, including 11 tables, 30 mirrors, 52 chairs, 4 marble counters, 2 range stoves, 1 cash register, 3 refrigerators, 1 cigar case, 3 coffee boilers, 3 electric fans, all knives and forks and plates, napkins and table cloths and all other articles of personal property used in said business and all of which is now located in said Fordham Hotel building.

Said sale will be made upon a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with good surety to be approved by the Commissioner, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from date of sale until paid, having the force and effect of a judgment. The purchaser will be privileged to pay cash and avoid the execution of bond.

The articles above described will be sold separately.

Said sale is made for the purpose of satisfying a sum of $700.00 with interest from the 12th day of September, 1917, together with costs, all of which is estimated as of the date of sale at $825.00.

PUBLIC SALE

—OF—

Business Property

On Wednesday, July 3, 1918,

at 2 p. m., on the premises, we will sell at public auction, for H. J. Grosche, the following described property:

This property will be sold separately and then as a whole and the best bid or bids accepted.

No. 1.—Two-story brick business house on the corner of Eighth and High Streets; front room 27x16 feet, and two back rooms.

No. 2.—Two-story brick business house on High Street, 21x52 feet. These houses have concrete floors and are absolutely rat proof.

Nos. 3 and 4.—Two lots facing 22 feet on Eighth Street, extending back 50 feet. On one of these lots is a small brick house, formerly used as a restaurant and readily rents for $10 per month.

This property is admirably located for all kinds of business, being one of the best cash business stands in Paris.

The vacant lots are especially desirable as sites for business houses, being centrally located.

TERMS—One-third cash, balance in one and two years. Deferred payments bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum until paid.

EXECUTOR'S SALE

—OF—

Valuable Business Property!

As executor of the estate of W. T. Ficklen, deceased, I will sell at public auction, on the premises, on Main Street, on beginning at 2 o'clock, the two story brick business building belonging to estate of the late W. T. Ficklen, located just in front of the Paris Court House.

Saturday, June 29, 1918,

This is one of the best located and most desirable business properties in Paris. The lot has a frontage on Main Street of 45.7 feet, more or less, and extends back to Pleasant Street a distance of 220 feet, more or less.

On the Main Street frontage is located two store rooms and an entrance to the upper floors of the building, which is divided into numerous living rooms. The Pleasant Street frontage is improved with a hitching stable, work shop and driveway.

This property is of sufficient size to make it particularly desirable for an up-to-date garage, or for a modern retail business block. The rear of the property, fronting on Pleasant Street being also well adapted for business purposes.

TERMS—One-third of the purchase price cash in hand; the balance due and payable in equal installments in one and two years, the deferred payments to bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum. A lien will be retained to secure the payment of said deferred payments, or purchaser may pay all cash, at his option, and stop interest.

Following the above sale at 2 p. m., on the premises, opposite the Court House, the household and kitchen furniture, etc., will also be sold. This will include a lot of bric-a-brac and an innumerable collection of various articles. Also a lot of bees and honey.

We Set Tire Standards

Why is it that United States Tires are setting new records for mileage and serviceability?

Why is it that the sales of these tires are constantly mounting by leaps and bounds?

The answer is found in the factories where United States Tires are made.

Standards of construction for these tires are higher than ever before known in the tire industry.

Makers of tire fabrics tell us that the standards we have given them for United States Tire fabrics are higher than any previously known.

Likewise through every process of construction from crude rubber to finished tires—we have set new, and higher standards everywhere.

These standards work out on your car in the practical economy demanded by war-times.

United States Tires will raise any car to higher efficiency.

There is a type to suit every condition of service.

The nearest United States Sales and Service Depot dealer will cheerfully aid in selecting right tires for your requirements.

United States Tires are Good Tires

We KNOW United States Tires are GOD tires. That's why we sell them.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION INCERASES PRICE OF WHEAT.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Blanket authority to increase the price of wheat at primary and other markets, with the approval of Food Administrator Hoover, above the $2.20 a bushel minimum price guaranteed by Presidential proclamation last February 21, is given the Food Administration Grain Corporation in New York by an executive order of the President. The order issued under der authority of the Food Control Law was made public Monday by Mr. Hoover. To carry out the purpose of the order the corporation is authorized to increase its capital stock from $50,000,000 to $150,000,000 in shares of a par value of $100 each. All the stock will be owned by the Government and will be purchased by the Food Administration from time to time, as the necessity arises to maintain the present $2.20 price and any increases authorized.

While no explanation of the order was given either at the Food Administration or the White House, two considerations were believed to have influenced the President's decision to permit the grain corporation to pay higher prices for wheat. The first was the increased freight rates, which will become effective Tuesday. Growers must bear this increase and without an advance in the price of wheat their profits would be materially reduced.

The second was believed to be the situation resulting from the deadlock in Congress over the Senate's amendment to the annual Agricultural Appropriation Bill, increasing the minimum guaranteed price for wheat to $2.50 a bushel. The House has refused to accept the amendment and the Senate is to vote on it again this week. In some quarters Monday it was believed that the President's action would be a factor in influencing the Senate to recede from the amendment.

GOVERNMENT WANTS SKILLED MEN IN CEMENT WORK.

The Department of Labor at Washington wants to know if men, who are experts in the clay, lime and cement industries, and competent engineers in Kentucky are patriotic enough to donate their services to the government a few days out of every week. These men are to act as field inspectors and, when possible, to suggest more efficient means of manufacturing the product. The answer whether in the affirmative or negative, is left to the men who are familiar with this kind of work. Applications for this work should be sent to President Frank L. McVey, of the University of Kentucky, who is the chairman of the United States Public Service Reserve in Kentucky.

BELIEVES KENTUCKY WILL PLEDGE WAR STAMP QUOTA

J. D. Lyon, of Pittsburg, director of the War Savings Committee and in active charge of the five Federal Reserve districts of which Kentucky is part, after perusing reports from 120 Kentucky counties expressed confidence that Kentucky would reach its full quota of $50,000,000 in the pledge campaign which closes to-day.

Reports of county chairmen to Director James B. Brown the past week have been encouraging. At the beginning of the campaign the majority of the county chairmen reported to Mr. Brown that so closely following the Liberty Loan and Red Cross drives it would be impossible to secure pledges of the quotas allotted to them, but as the campaign progresses the task seems to become easy for each county, although the entire State quota is twice as large as the third Liberty Loan subscription, as the war savings quotas are based upon population and the Liberty Loan quotas upon bank deposits.

U. S. GOVERNMENT COMMANDERS ALL STEEL AND IRON

Every ton of steel and pig iron in the country virtually has been commandeered by the government for war purposes, and any surplus remaining after the war needs are met, will be distributed under strict government supervision.

This was learned officially following a publication in New York of a meeting there attended by the chief steel men of the country and J. Leonard Replogle, director of steel for the War Industries Board. At that meeting Mr. Replogle announced the government's new policy to guarantee a constant supply of steel for the nation's war activities. He told the steel men they would be required to devote their entire capacity to war orders and they signed a pledge agreeing to this program.

PARIS BOY WRITES AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM FRANCE

Joe J. Grosche and brothers, Henry and Will Grosche, of this city, have received a letter from their brother, Mr. Leo Grosche, who is in France as a member of the American Expeditionary Force. For the first time, Mr. Grosche states, they are allowed to tell where they are stationed. Mr. Grosche's letter is one of great interest, and is published in full below:

"Thiviers, France, June 3.

"Dear Brothers:
"It is now permissible for men behind the lines to give their location, and to send home postal views and have various other privileges in the way of letter-writing, etc. So I hope that hereafter I will be able to write more interesting letters.

"The above place is pronounced Te-ve-ay, and is in the province of Dordogne. I do not know if you will be able to find Thiviers on an American map, but it is located about ninety miles northeast of Bordeaux, or else find Puygoux and look northeast of there. Before describing our present location I'll tell you about my previous experience in France.

"After landing we were in a rest camp, near (deleted.) I was only in the latter place once. A bunch of us, in charge of an officer, tramped there and back one afternoon. About all we did was to walk through the business section, and we did not get to see anything of much consequence. Anyway I can say I have been in Bordeaux. After leaving Camp No-Rest, as we have nicknamed it, we traveled by train to Vallet. This place is pronounced just as it is spelled, and is in the province of Loire Inférieure, and is about fifteen miles southeast of Nantes. We were located at Vallet for about two months building a telegraph line (that is all we are doing at our present location.) Our mess hall was in an old theatre, and our barracks were in three different buildings, scattered throughout the town. We were comfortably housed, though. Vallet is a great wine center, and practically all of the ground under cultivation is in vineyards. While there I formed an erroneous opinion that the people of France were putting more attention to wine than the growing of foodstuffs, but it is altogether different in this section. Since leaving Vallet we have seen very few grape vines. Before the war this was evidently a very lively place. You could hardly go two doors without stepping into a winery (cafe is the principal name for them here), and I don't suppose there was a home but what had its private wine cellar. Well, that's enough about Vallet.

"Now, I'll tell you about the most interesting part of my trip since leaving the States (excepting some occurrences on our sea trip), and that was a two-hundred mile motor truck trip from Vallet to Thiviers. We had quite a train of trucks, officers' cars, motorcycles and 'road lice' (trucks.) I was in one of the latter with a kitchen force, and we would run ahead of the trail, get about three hours start on it, set up our stoves and have mess ready when the train got to camp. We were on the run from last Monday morning until Wednesday noon. We camped in towns on the two nights out on our trip. Some of the fellows set up their 'pup tents,' and some slept on the trucks and on the ground. The cook and I rolled up in our blankets on the ground and had the big blue sky for our tent. In my opinion, the nights were too beautiful to do otherwise. The last night we camped at Angouleme (the spelling of the places I am giving you may be different on the American maps.) It was quite a large place, and beautiful, to say the least. It is located on a hill and overlooks an immense valley. The most beautiful part of our trip, though, was after leaving Angouleme. I am a poor hand at describing scenery, but just want to say that, though I have not seen all of the United States, I've yet to see the scenic part of it that can compare with the country we've passed through in the last week.

"Another interesting sight was some masonry work in the way of big stone arched railway bridges. One thing the French have is good roads. We have found almost perfect highways everywhere. I forgot to say that I made a great many motor truck trips to Nantes, and it is certainly an interesting city. Well, anyway, we arrived in Thiviers with enough dirt and dust on us to keep us busy washing ever since, and I still have some traces of it. Thiviers is a town of about five thousand. We are all in barracks in one building, and have our mess hall in another building. I'm still in the kitchen, had an opportunity to get out of it this week, but believe I'll stick it out until we begin railroad, which I believe will be in a couple of months. While I'm sitting here writing I can see a big locomotive in the yards just across the road. With the good old letters, U. S. A. painted on the tender, and let me tell you folks, it looks mighty good to me. United States railway equipment is a common sight here. You people would have to be in France to realize to what extent Uncle Sam is going into this war. But take it from me, folks, he is coming strong, and when he gets fully prepared, somebody's going to catch him.

"I do not know if the custom is general, but in Thiviers the first Saturday of each month is the general market day. All the farmers with their produce and stock come to town. Well, last Saturday, they came in all directions, and it was almost misery to try to get through some of the streets. And speaking of streets, one of our trucks will completely block the majority of them, and the sidewalks are very seldom over three feet wide. Well, to get back to the main subject, about 'court day.' The people came to town in assorted vehicles galore, donkey-drawn carts being the principal means of locomotion, oxen for the heavier loads, but very few horses. In Nantes a great many dog carts were to be seen.

"I believe I had better save some of the descriptive material until the

THE PARIS CHAUTAUQUA

Is a Chautauqua ticket worth two dollars?

That's the question we want every person to answer for himself; and in answering it, to consider a few facts.

We will have twelve high-grade, but distinctly different attraction in our full six-days' program. They will consist of musical companies, entertainers and lecturers, all of top-notch quality; in fact, the very best the Chautauqua affords (and Chautauqua audiences are a finely discriminating lot, you may be sure.)

In this statement we ask you to consider but three of the twelve or more attractions. They are of an entirely different type, doing an altogether different work, and about the only respect in which they are similar is in the fact that they are all making good in a very big way; and to hear any one of them would be worth more than the whole cost of the season ticket.

Here are their names: Captain Richmond P. Hobson, Dr. Jay William Hudson and George Eustace Pearson. Captain Hobson's name will be known and honored as long as the history of Spanish-American War is read and remembered, in which as the hero of the Merrimac, he gained immortal fame. His Chautauqua address is entitled, "America and the World War."

Jay William Hudson is one of the leading publicists and lecturers in America on topics of national and international interest. The subject of his great lecture is "American Ideals."

George Eustace Pearson is a survivor of Princess Patricia's Regiment of Canadian Light Infantry, better known as the "Princess Pats," an author of books on the war and contributor to the Saturday Evening Post. His Chautauqua address will recount the history and adventure of the Princess Pats, the most famous body of fighting men of modern times.

This is less than a fourth of the program! And the cost is about 50 cents. Is it worth the price?

Then get your season ticket to-day of Mr. E. T. Hinton, the Chautauqua Secretary, or some other member of the Chautauqua Association. We'll look for you there, you and your family, too.

Remember the dates, July 6-11, inclusive.

He was hurried to the hospital where amputation was deemed necessary, the foot being taken off just below the ankle.

BOOTLEGGERS FINED.

In Police Court, Tuesday, a fine of $50 and a jail sentence of twenty days was assessed against Ed. Johnson, a colored resident of Winnie street, near Claysville, on a charge of bootlegging liquor in local option territory.

Jackson was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Link and Patrolman Lusk, after suspicion which had been directed toward him matured into an actuality, when the wet goods in small packages, were found on him. Johnson confessed his guilt and the fine and sentence was recorded against him.

next letter. I suppose the first thing you will want to know is how I am getting along. I weighed Sunday on French scales, and my weight was sixty-five kilograms (143 pounds.) That's with my clothes on, too, and makes a gain for me of about twenty-seven pounds since I enlisted. That's the heaviest I have ever been in my life. Do you believe the army life is agreeing with me?

"By the way, I received the bunch of 'Luke McLuke's' and the Mutt and Jeff clippings, and they are certainly great stuff. Continue to send them. Folks, I guess we are all out of luck on the parcel proposition, because the latest order is that no packages can be sent to the soldiers over here, order or no order, from the commanding officer.

PUBLIC INVITED TO INSPECT COMMUNITY GARDEN

The community war gardens located on the old Fair Grounds property, on the Lexington pike, near Paris, will be open for the inspection of the public on July 3, when Mrs. Harriet Minaker, and the workers will take pleasure in showing visitors around the gardens.

The gardens have been cultivated by Paris and Bourbon county boys, all under sixteen years of age, under the supervision of Mrs. Minaker. They have been taking intense interest in the work, and as a result of their labors, what was once an unproductive area, is now blossoming forth in a mass of "green goods," the kind that cheers the inner man, makes for health, and is also good to look upon. The ground for the purpose for which it is being used was donated by E. F. Spears & Sons, of Paris, who purchased it some years ago.

On this same date the boys will be presented with medals, donated by the Government, in appreciation of the good work they have done and are still doing in gardening.

The people of Paris should turn out en masse, and visit the Community gardens on July 3. The trip will do them good, and the sight of what the boys have done out there will be a revelation to them.

HOME FOR DELINQUENT GIRLS.

President Wilson has interested himself in this nation-wide movement. The Government puts upon it the stamp of approval by appropriating $30,000 to any State that will match this amount. Don't condemn. Learn the facts.

The immediate reason for this movement is that the army officials have determined to remove from the vicinity of the training camps the young women of loose morality who constitute a menace to the health of the soldiers, and preliminary to this action it is desired that provision be made to house these girls and give them opportunity to reform morally and prepare themselves for employment in various occupations.

Aside from the military necessities which have induced the nation to take notice of the delinquent girl, the ordinary impulses of humanity and the advancing ideals of right living should prompt ready response to this appeal for help.

Viewed purely as an economic question it should demand the most energetic and thorough treatment at the hands of society and the State. The percentage of young men suffering from the damming effects of the social evil is appalling.

We can no longer ignore conditions. Louisville pledges $20,000 of the State's quota. Lexington hopes to get $2,000. Throughout the State Bourbon county is known as always "standing by" in every emergency. In this, too, she will do her bit. Watch the papers for the date of a woman's rally. Very little is to be asked of each person, but this hydra-headed monster must be crushed. Its menace is second only to that of Prussianism. Lend your interest and influence.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT

The June term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, which has been in session since June 11, adjourned Wednesday, after transacting a considerable amount of important business. Two murder cases were continued to the November term. The case of John Henry Harpe for killing Oscar Wiloughby and the case of Henry Hawkins, colored, for killing Sarah Leer, colored, were the ones thus disposed of temporarily. In the Harpe case an affidavit was presented to the Court to the effect that Attorney Maury Kemper, of Lexington, who was his attorney, was engaged in holding a term of court in Fayette county, and therefore, could not be present.

On Wednesday morning Judge Robert L. Stout convened Court and called motion hour, at which a number of orders and motions incident to the adjournment of the term were taken up and ordered filed with Clerk Webb.

Mose Fisher, indicted for robbing the clothing store of I. L. Price & Co., was given a sentence of one year in the penitentiary.

Simon Cooper, housebreaking, was sent to the same institution for one year.

Bud Cage, indicted for stealing shingles from the Templin Lumber Co., was also given one year in the "pen."

All are colored men. John Clay, colored, indicted for carrying concealed deadly weapons, was fined $50 and given ten days in jail and discharged for two years.

The fact that little business was transacted at this term of the Court was due to pressure of work on the farms in saving the wheat and hay crops. Judge Stout expressing the opinion that much of the work of the Court could go over to the fall term, Judge Stout left for Frankfort, Wednesday, where he is presiding over the June term of the Franklin Circuit Court.

BOURBON OIL CO. BUSY.

Mr. C. L. Ball, of the Bourbon Oil & Development Co., and Mr. Sam Booth, one of the principal stockholders of the concern, have been in Estill county fields several days, inspecting the work going on on the company's leases in that territory.

The drill was down 400 feet yesterday in Well No. 1, on the Freeman lease on Ross Creek. All the wells on Ross Creek of this company have now been connected up with the pipelines and oil is being pumped to the tanks.

PARIS WOMAN INTERESTED IN NEW WAR ACTIVITY.

Mrs. Virgil D. Chandler, formerly of Paris, who has been residing in Battle Creek, Mich., for some time, has inaugurated a new phase of war activity work, and is now in Kentucky prosecuting the work along that line. Mrs. Chandler is a daughter of Mr. W. H. H. Johnson, of Second street, this city.

Mrs. Chandler made an address in Lexington, as starting point of the movement, her topic being "Patriotism." The meeting was held in the Baptist church. Mrs. Chandler is engaged in promoting the organization of a Society for Cripples, and for the relief of crippled soldiers coming home from the war in Europe.

This society, having only come into existence within the last few months, is comparatively new to many persons, and to many cripples as well. Mrs. Chandler is touring the country in the interest of the organization and when asked concerning her work, said that she was sent out to mobilize all physically afflicted persons, that when the time comes the cripples at home may teach crippled soldiers returning from the front how again to mold their lives and habits to be useful citizens, to go on living as before the war and in many cases to teach them occupations by which they may make a living.

Mrs. Chandler says the object of the Society is to make all members think less of their own misfortune in giving their utmost to win the war. She urges that all cripples, whether or not they have interviewed her, to notify the secretary-treasurer of the Society, Miss Anna M. Woodford, at Paris, so that they may become members of this organization, and ally themselves with the movement, which is to be useful to the Government during the great struggle, and in the reconstruction period following.

Patriotism the Keynote of the Chautauqua

Lecturers Helping Win the War

President Wilson terms the Chautauqua "an integral part of the national defense." He says the Chautauqua lectures are effective messengers for the delivery and interpretation of democracy's meaning and imperative needs.

Our Program Includes

Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, the Hero of the Merrimac, distinguished statesman; original advocate of National Preparedness—to speak on "America and the World War."

George Eustace Pearson, soldier, author of the Princess Pat stories in The Saturday Evening Post, survivor of the original Princess Pats, Canada's famous regiment.

Gabriel R. Maguire, F. R. G. S., African explorer and celebrated lecturer. "With An Irishman Through the Jungles of Africa" is a rare treat.

Bob Seeds, Humorist and Philosopher, and general Chautauqua favorite. His wisdom and fun are violently contagious in "The Way It Looks From The Road."

Jay William Hudson, of the University of Missouri, speaks on "American Ideals." Just returned from the war zone. A lecturer with an international reputation.

Roland A. Nichols, one of the leading popular orators of the day—magnetic and convincing. "The Worth While." The discoverer of Harold Bell Wright.

Clyde Wilson McCord, a brilliant speaker, lecturer upon up-to-date modern questions. Is able to instruct and inspire.

RED CROSS CANARIES BRING GOOD SUM.

There was a good crowd present Wednesday morning in the Edwards Realty Co.'s offices, when the Red Cross canaries, "Gen. Pershing" and "Jack Pershing," donated by Mrs. Frankie Paton, were disposed of. The birds netted the sum of $136.50. The birds were disposed of to Mr. Tilford Burnett, of this city. Miss Alleen Ewalt, of Paris, was the successful holder of the ticket calling for a prize for selling the largest number of tickets.

BOURBON TO GET ROAD AID.

In the apportionment of the State Aid Road Fund, amounting to $733,130, according to advice from Frankfort, Bourbon county will receive as its share the sum of $14,662. TO TALK ON WAR WORK

Miss Alice Rogers Clay, who is touring Kentucky cities in the interest of the National Service School, will talk to the women of the city and the county in the County Court room in the court house on next Monday (Court day) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Miss Clay's talk will be devoted to explaining the necessities and urgency of war work, such as women can become interested in and such as they can do. She will tell them how they can become fit for war work, and to be of service to the Nation in the great crisis that now confronts us.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the women of the city and the county to attend this meeting, which will be decidedly interesting.

NO MORE OIL OBTAINABLE FOR STREETS.

Mr. A. G. Boggs, of the Department of Public Roads at Frankfort, was in Paris, Wednesday, in consultation with Mayor January, in regard to oil for the streets.

Mr. Boggs and city officials made an inspection of the streets from limit to limit of the city. On their return Mr. Boggs informed Mayor January that it would be impossible to furnish more oil for the streets of Paris or any other city. He stated that the Government was now conserving the oil supply for the maintaining and preserving of public streets and highways, but that none could be obtained for the purpose of controlling the dust nuisance in cities and towns.

The city had recently used two tanks of heavy oil in suppressing the dust in Paris, and had hoped to get more, but Mr. Boggs' statement makes all that now impossible. Mr. Boggs before returning to Frankfort, will inspect the piles in the county to ascertain if they are in need of oil for permanent maintenance.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.Comings and Goings of Our People Here, There and Elsewhere.

—Miss Josephine Leer has returned to her home in Millersburg after a visit to Miss Elizabeth Carter.

—Mrs. Walter Martin and children have returned to their home in Paris after a visit to relatives in Lexington.

—Dr. Martha Petree will leave tomorrow for Boston, Mass., at attend the sessions of the National Osteopathic Convention. She will be gone about three weeks.

—Miss Elizabeth Toohey, Mrs. John J. McCarthy, Messrs. John Brophy and George Toohey, of Paris, and Miss Mary Brannon, of Lexington, have returned from a visit to Miss Mae Liston, in Maysville.

—Mr. O. P. Carter, Special Internal Revenue Agent, with headquarters at Huntington, W. Va., spent several days here this week with his family while enroute to Fleming county on official business.

—Withers Davis, I. L. Price and W. R. Blakemore returned yesterday from Louisville, where they represented Paris at the sessions of the Kentucky Retail Clothiers' Association. The association, of which Mr. Davis is Secretary, will meet in Lexington next year.

—Chief of Police Fred Link, Mrs. Link, and their daughter, Miss Hazel Link, have returned from a visit of two weeks in Kansas City, Mo. While there they were guests of Chief Link's brother, Mr. Charles Link, and other relatives. Chief Link attended the sessions of the International Association of Police Chiefs while in Kansas City.

—Mr. Frank R. Erringer, of Chicago, came in Wednesday for a surprise visit to old friends of his boyhood days. Mr. Erringer and Mrs. Erringer had been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Koonz, in Charlestown, Indiana, and, being in the vicinity, Mr. Erringer could not resist the temptation to revisit the scenes of his youth. Mr. Erringer left Paris over thirty-five years ago, during which time he has made his home in California and in Chicago, where he is in the big wholesale house of Sprague, Warner & Co. Mr. Erringer found Paris greatly changed since his last visit here some years ago.

ALLEGED DESERTER ARRESTED

Sheriff Wm. G. McClintock and Deputy Sheriff Ollie Marshall on Wednesday placed under arrest a man named Arthur Moore Carney, who had been working on the farm of Mr. Emmett Henry, near Paris, on a charge of being an army camp deserter.

The officers had been informed that Carney, who had been on the Henry place for some time, was regarded with suspicion as being a deserter, though he had never said anything to indicate his connection at any time with army life. Upon going to the farm they found Carney at work, and put him through a course of "sprouts" which finally elicited a confession to the effect that he had deserted from Camp Shelby, at Hattiesburg, where he had been sent with one of the Kentucky contingents. He gave his home address as Mammoth Cave, Ky. A search by the officers led to the finding of a pair of khaki army trousers near the bank of a branch, on the flap of which were the initials A. M. C.

Carney was brought to Paris in the Sheriff's automobile, and placed in the county jail, where he will be held for the military authorities at Camp Shelby, who have been notified.

"EF YU GOIN' TO 'ZIBIT, WHY DON'T YE ZIBIT?"

Not only were hundreds of the kiddies disappointed Tuesday when a combined combination of concatenated circumstances prevented the exhibition of the Coop & Lent Circus, but hundreds of children of larger growth also felt the sting.

Heavy rains and the caving-in of a bridge on the North Middletown pike, caused the circus to divide into two sections. Only one of these, about fourteen trucks, reached Paris. Seeing the futility of making any effort to exhibit here, the two sections combined and went to Lexington, where they exhibited Wednesday.

Hundreds of people waited patiently for several hours Tuesday morning for the street parade, which had been announced, but which did not materialize, owing to the circumstances above stated.

Those who went to Lexington to see the performance pronounced it one of the best they had ever seen.

KANE BROS.

STORY OF KNIGHT OF COLUMBUS CHAPLAIN IN ACTION.

How a Knights of Columbus Chaplain acts in the stress of battle is admirably illustrated in the following interview dispatched by Bert Ford, correspondent of the International News Service to The Chicago American, on April 28:

"You should go among the boys in the ranks," said Father John B. DeValles. "That's where you find heroic Americans who are a credit to our beloved flag."

"Striplings of 18 showed the fortitude of veterans. It was my baptism of fire, and it was hell incarnate."

"Lieut. John Galvin, of Greenfield (State not given), came to the dressing station after fighting gallantly all the first day. He told the doctor there was something the matter with his eardrums. He said he could not hear, and it interfered with his work. 'The doctor told him to bathe his ears in hot water. Galvin laughingly replied, 'How am I going to get hot water when I can't even get cold, doc?'"

"I followed him to the door of the dugout and shook hands with him. A shell just then burst near where the doctor stood. I warned Galvin he had better not stand near the door. He was just about to go when another shell burst in front of us. It mangled the poor fellow. He will be sincerely mourned by the whole regiment. He was a born soldier. He loved the military game and was idolized by his men."

"I had to do a little first aid work of my own in addition to giving the last rites to the dying. As to the latter, it mattered not what faith they belonged to. If the man was a non-Catholic, I would say:

"A prayer won't hurt you anyway, even if I'm not a minister of your faith.' And in every case they begged me to pray and bless them. The spiritual feeling is strong in such trying hours when death lurks everywhere. There were no denominational lines out there."

"Just after the battle word reached from some of our men that Private Charles Pike, of Peabody, Mass., lay wounded in No Man's Land. 'They told me he was a Protestant boy, but, Protestant or Catholic, chaplains draw no boundaries. I crept around the dead, but couldn't find Pike. I came back and got new directions and then tried another place, but again failed to find him."

"I came across Pike at the dressing station later, however. The little patriot smiled when I reached him. He had been wounded by shrapnel and was unable to move. So I carried him back further behind the lines, dodging the shells. Pike was getting along finely."

"The first thing I do is to give the wounded a drink of hot tea. I carry a thermos bottle under my belt."

"Then I stick a lighted cigarette between their lips, and that always brings a smile, no matter how badly wounded they are—it gives them new 'pep.' Then, when they are ready for the litter bearers and about to be carried away, I whisper in their ears, 'Courage, lad. God bless you. Think of God and your mother.'"

"I sent sixteen of them down their painful path that way, and everyone of them was smiling despite their pain. When I visited them at the hospital the first thing they ask is how soon they will get back to the trenches to help their comrades. They are always anxious to know if they are sure to be sent back to their old 'outfit,' as they call their units. 'I wouldn't swap this job for the best pastoral place in America.'"

BACKING UP PROOF.

The Kind That Paris People Cannot Deny.

Many an earnest man or woman has publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills.

Week after week, month after month you've read their statements. Would these Paris people recommend any medicine if it were not good?

Would they confirm and repeat their statements after years had passed?

Local proof is good evidence. Testimony confirmed years after is better evidence.

The following Paris man's statement leaves no room for doubt. It must convince every kidney sufferer who reads it.

If your back aches—if your kidneys are weak, profit by the experience of George McCandles, Second Street. He says: "My kidneys were inactive and I had headaches. Doan's Kidney Pills put a stop to all the trouble and gave me complete relief."

(Statement given January 17, 1912.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE.

Over four years later, on November 9, 1916, Mr. McCandles said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney remedy since I last endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. I consider myself permanently cured."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McCandles had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The First Infantry Guns Weighed 75 Pounds

FOOT soldiers began to carry firearms about 1350, huge, clumsy guns weighing from 25 to 75 pounds.

Mere hand cannon, iron or copper tubes, they were leveled by a forked support, and fired at a touch hole.

With the invention of the wheel-lock arquebus, in 1517, the first self-firing gun, the musket, was a quick step.

Like the first guns, automobile tires, when Goodrich began to develop them, were crude, clumsy affairs, and it's a long, long road of improvement to the symmetrical—

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The history of the last twenty-two years of The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company is pretty much the history of pneumatic automobile tire.

But whether Goodrich was bringing forth America's first clincher tire, or America's first cord tire—

Goodrich built tires to but one end—SERVICE VALUE to the user—the worth of the tire to the motorist on his car and on the road in comfort, economy, dependability and durability, and mileage.

That is why the tire user to-day gets the utmost SERVICE VALUE in GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS.

Demand SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

THE CHEAP SKATE

When everything else to his discredit had been proved there came in a novel manner proof that the Kaiser is a cheap skate, a tin-horn sport. The $5,000 gold yachting cup His Imperial Highness gave to the American who won the yacht race in 1905 was pewter, plated with gold.

Money comes easily to the Emperor of Germany. He is one of the most richly gilded grafters of modern times. Why he should present a camouflage gold cup to an American yachtsman it is difficult to understand, but the fact is of interest in that it established beyond a doubt the existence of total depravity. The world had learned that in every other particular the Kaiser was contemptible, but had regarded him as being at least above paying his debts with counterfeit money or make-believe gold cups.

That a Hohenzollern should be handed down to posterity as a cheap skate and a common crook in a sporting event never would have been imagined had not the yachting cup been broken under the hammer and the truth revealed.

BOB SEEDS, Humorist.

Genial, whole-souled, a prince of story-tellers, a king of good fellows, full of fun, facts and philosophy, is Bob Seeds of Pennsylvania. Bob is one of the most popular speakers in the country and is always in great demand for national gatherings, state affairs, bankers banquets, etc. As a Chautauqua lecturer he is one of the best known and best loved figures in the history of the movement.

He speaks here on the fourth night of Chautauqua. His lecture, "The Way It Looks From the Road," has two hundred hearty laughs mixed in with eloquence, inspiration and practical good sense.

DR. GABRIEL R. MAGUIRE, F. R. G. S.

A celebrated African explorer, traveler and lecturer, and at present the famous pastor of the Ruggles Street Baptist Church of Boston, the largest institutional church in America, Dr. Gabriel R. Maguire, who is to lecture here, is one of the "headliners" of the coming Chautauqua.

Dr. Maguire is an Irishman—pure goods, highest grade. His brogue, wit, pathos and eloquence make his address, "With An Irishman Through the Jungles of Africa," an unforgettable occasion. The curious and souvenirs employed by the Doctor in this lecture are intensely interesting, and are worth thousands of dollars. Second night.

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS:

"The work that the Chautauqua is doing has not lost importance because of the war, but rather has gained new opportunities for service. Let me express the hope that you will let no discouragement weaken your activities, and that the people will not fail in the support of a patriotic institution that may be said to be an integral part of the national defense."

Today—as at no other time in all our history is the value of Chautauqua, the crying need for it—evident.

A VETERAN'S IDEA OF THE WAR.

During the war in Mexico against Maximilian, 1863-68, the writer followed the fortunes of President Benito Juarez in the capacity of English and Spanish Interpreter and Private Secretary to the latter. In course of my regular duty it fell to my lot to translate frequently for English correspondents of that patriotic Mexican statesman, a letter from Gen. Prim, who was then at the head of the Spanish army, to Napoleon III, at whose instance and by whose aid Maximilian had undertaken to establish an empire in Mexico that should be tributary to that of Napoleon.

To General Prim, who, besides being a great military leader, was a wise statesman and philosopher, the idea trying to turn back the wheels of progress and to substitute anywhere in North America "a government of the people, for the people and by the people" by the empire or any form of personal dominion appeared so chimerical that he at once took it upon himself, as an ardent friend of the Napoleonic dynasty, to write its head a letter couched in language of true respect and friendship, which in substance ran about as follows:

"I believe I should be derelict in my profession of deepest devotion to the interests of your dynasty, did I not invite your attention to facts of history seeming to presage the purpose of Providence to set apart the New World for a new form of government."

Was it not significant that even the knowledge of the existence of half the world was withheld from the other half until the supremacy of Christian civilization became established in Southern Europe? It had been only after eight hundred years of war between the elements of heathenism and those of Christian civilization that the latter triumphed. And it was at the siege of Granada on the eve of the last battle in eight centuries of war between the forces indicated that Columbus first appeared at the tents of the Christian leaders, the monarchs of Spain, to show them the Western way, and shorter route to the East Indies, on the theory of the spherical form of the earth, that resulted in the discovery of America.

Providence was as ever forehanded with this pioneer part of the world. Columbus was like another Moses, only the people whom he was to lead from the old half of the world to the Western Hemisphere were Christians. The majority of them believed in Christ and purposed living in the Americas on principles laid down by Christ, founding their government upon the principle that "the greatest of all shall be the servant of all," which is the cornerstone of Democracy and of representative governments.

The conviction of Americans that their land and institutions are God-given leads them to lay their lives cheerfully upon the altar of their country.

Patrick Henry, one of the advocates of independence, inspired by his belief in the Divinely prepared blessing of freedom for man, at the Yorktown convention, preceding the North American Revolution, after citing the three millions of people of the thirteen colonies, exclaimed, with wonderfully prophetic vision: "Besides, sir, there is a just God who presides over the destinies of nations and who will raise up friends to fight our battles for us." And it was, sire, the people of France, the country over which your majesty at present rules that Jehovah "raised up" to fulfill the prophecy of the inspired patriot, who concluded his peroration with: "Give me liberty or give me death," and which sentiment finds response in the vast hosts of his countrymen, whom to conquer would be to exterminate.

And under the Aegis of what is called the Monroe Doctrine, the same spirit extends to all the Americas reaching from ocean to ocean and from pole to pole with hundreds of millions of heroic freemen instead of three paltry millions of Patrick Henry's epoch."

The reflections of General Prim appear, as truth always does, just as applicable to the present as the past. And if the German leaders had been the "smart fellows" some claim them to be, they might have at least foreseen that the Americas, where they were always welcomed as citizens, would be dangerous antagonists when trampled upon and openly defied. Their own lack of real patriotism and education made their blunder possible. Their predatory success against the Napoleonic dynasty in France in 1871 turned their shallow heads, making complete fools of them they appear when measured by General Prim's standard of wisdom or that of the proverbial wise man who declared it well to be advised before going to war.

The program of the predatory leaders of Germany, it now transpires, had been, first to subdue France again, then levy on her for additional strength and capital to triumph over England. Then with the navy of the latter country, the financial strength she could derive from both England and France, and the prestige of a world-defying power she could have looked across the Atlantic.

But before she actually declared war on us for the hospitable heartiness with which we have always welcomed German immigrants to our country, she would have added to the large percentage of German population we already have a score or two million more, probably Huns of the worse types, and then with our schools teaching German to the youth of the country and about half the population ready to turn traitor at home, an attack on our chief seaports by Germany, in force, would have placed us again where our ancestors stood when George III, another old Teuton despot, forced America into the first War of Independence. And like our forefathers, of course we should have won, in the long run, but at a terrible cost.

Patrick Henry had read history, and, like General Prim, of Spain, he could clearly distinguish the hand of Providence in reserving America for an advanced civilization, different from that of Teuton and Turk, and from "German kultur." And in the present war, while America was preparing to celebrate the greatest peace event, the completions of the Inter-oceanic Canal at Panama, where our country employed the largest peace army of modern times, for six years at a cost of half a billion dollars, nearly cutting off fourteen thousand miles of travel for the benefit of mankind, our uncultured German adversaries were preparing to "stab us in the back." But Patrick Henry's prophecy supported by that of General Prim, again was fulfilled, and the same France was again "raised up" to withstand the enemy while we and England, Italy and the Lord's followers could buckle on our armor.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional condition requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DON'T WAIT EVEN A DAY.

The attention of every War Savings Stamp worker in Kentucky is directed in particular to one point brought out in President Wilson's appeal urging the purchase of War Savings Stamps. The President says: "I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before June 28." Clearly this means that pledges should be secured from this date on and including June 28.

War Savings workers are urged to make it clear that while June 28 is War Savings Pledge Day, and while the supreme effort for the securing of pledges will be made on that day, the campaign is in reality on from this time forward.

CHINA READY TO HELP WIN THE WAR.

"China and the Chinese stand ready at any time and all times to join any movement which may bring success to the Allied cause; that is the message the Chinese asked me to bring to the United States," said Thomas Sammons, American Consul General at Shanghai, at San Francisco.

"You can count on us for anything to help win the war, they told me to tell you," he added.

Ingels, who is in the Dr. Barrow Unit No. 40, which recently left Camp Taylor, Louisville, and is now temporarily stationed in a camp on Long Island, New York. He says the weather is cold there. They are camping in tents, and the comforts are not as good as at Camp Taylor. There are five other units in camp. They will all probably sail for France at the same time.

—Dr. W. M. Miller received a telegram Tuesday announcing the death of Mrs. Margaret Helen Hutch-craft, at Pueblo, Colo. The telegram stated Mrs. Hutchcraft had died at eight a. m. Tuesday and that the remains would be brought to the home of Dr. Miller, and interred in the Paris Cemetery perhaps Sunday. Mrs. Hutchcraft was formerly Miss Margaret Fleming, and was a native of Fleming county. A number of years ago she united in marriage to Mr. Richard Hutchcraft. They afterward went to Colorado, taking up their abode at Pueblo. One daughter was born to this happy couple, Miss Emma Hutchcraft, who afterward married a Mr. Stanard, of that city, and died some years ago at the home of her aunt, Miss Ella Fleming, in Millersburg. Mr. Hutchcraft died a number of years ago, his remains being interred in the Paris Cemetery. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Hutchcraft and granddaughter, Miss Margaret Stanard, made their home in Millersburg, for a number of years. They resided with her sisters, Misses Judith and Ella Fleming. After their death they resided in the family of Dr. W. M. Miller, brother-in-law of Mrs. Hutchcraft. Miss Stanard graduated at the M. F. C., after which she returned to Pueblo for a time. About two years ago she was married and her grandmother, Mrs. Hutchcraft, resided with her. Mrs. Hutchcraft was a devout member of the Methodist church and a brilliant woman. She belongs to one of the pioneer families of Kentucky and has an extensive relationship throughout the State. The particulars of her death are not yet known, nor just when the body will arrive. She would have been eighty years of age next Sunday.

Definite information has been received to the effect that the body of Mrs. Hutchcraft will arrive here at noon Saturday, and will be taken to the home of Dr. W. M. Miller. The funeral will be held at the Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, with services conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Gardner. The interment will take place in the Paris Cemetery following the services in this city. The pall-bearers will be J. F. McDaniel, D. P. Jones, J. H. Stewart, A. S. Best, H. D. Patterson and Dr. C. B. Smith. The honorary pall-bearers will be Millersburg women who were members of Mrs. Hutchcraft's Sunday School class when she resided here.

CITIZENS OF PARIS READ! THIS CONCERNS YOU!

Public notice has frequently been given that you should boil all water used for domestic or drinking purposes, whether it be from hydrant, well, cistern or spring. There may be water-borne disease at any time of the year, more especially, however during the late summer and autumn months.

This Board has no information to suspect such disease or diseases presently, yet it realizes such possibility, and the object of this notice is to protect the public against any danger from this source.

Don't be unfair and say you have never seen nor heard of this notice. The quickest means to reach all the people is through a city's local papers, hence this communication.

Again, WATER-BORNE DISEASES ARE ABSOLUTELY PREVENTED BY BOILING WATER. Will you heed this admonition or will you willfully or negligently pursue the even tenor of your way and regard this notice as worthless? It is up to you. Antiques in furniture may be all right. In milldams they are dangerous, and this Board so condemns. Changes in treatment of the water supply have been recently suggested and are now in operation.

MATRIMONIAL.

RIPY—CANTRILL.

—The marriage of Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, of Georgetown, Representative in Congress from the Seventh Kentucky District, to Mrs. Ethel Gist Ripy, of Lawrenceburg, noted club woman, took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. T. M. Swann, at Wilmington, Delaware, in the presence of a number of relatives and intimate friends of both parties.

The groom is well-known to fame as one of the ablest representatives Kentucky has had in Congress for many years. His bride is a native Kentuckian, having been born at Newcastle, in Henry county. She has been prominent in the social and club circles of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Cantrill, while in Washington, will reside in a handsome home which Mr. Cantrill purchased a few days ago, evidently in anticipation of the happy event which took place Wednesday.

FISHER—DETERMAN.

—A surprise wedding, in which the daughter of a prominent Paris man, was one of the principals, took place in Lexington, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Belle Fisher, daughter of Mr. William P. Fisher, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Alfred Determan, of Covington. It was not until several hours after the wedding had taken place that the family of the bride learned of the event.

Miss Fisher went to Lexington, Tuesday, presumably for a visit to Mrs. Leslie Clark. She was met there Wednesday by the groom, who is a brother of Mr. George Determan, the brick contractor, of this city. They proceeded to the office of Magistrate W. S. Hunt, after securing license. To the witnesses who had been summoned, and to the magistrate, there was some doubt as to their being of legal age, judging from their youthful appearance. On being questioned they both declared they were more than twenty-one years of age. They were accordingly married at 4:30 o'clock, and left immediately for the home of the groom, in Covington.

The bride is a handsome young woman, who has a host of friends in Paris, where she has been a social favorite. Mr. Determan is a young business man of Covington, who has been a frequent visitor at the home of his brother, in this city.

BOURBON LODGE I. O. O. F. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

At the recent meeting of Bourbon Lodge I. O. O. F., the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term:

Noble Grand, John Chisholm; Vice-Grand, Walford Ewalt; Recording Secretary, Wm. A. Lail; Financial Secretary, A. L. Burley; Treasurer, Homer D. Shy; Host, C. W. Fothergill.

At this meeting Judge E. B. January, Chairman of the Hall Committee, was authorized to invest $1,000 of the lodge's funds in War Savings Stamps.

Mrs. Hawkins, State President of the Rebekah Assembly, the woman's auxiliary of the I. O. O. F. lodge will meet with the members of Paris Lodge No. 7, Rebekahs, at the I. O. O. F. lodge room to-night. All members are requested to be present to meet Mrs. Hawkins.

TWO INCIDENTS SHOWING THE FRENCH ENTHUSIASM OVER AMERICA.

The wonderful enthusiasm of the French people, a nation of fighters themselves, over the entrance of America in the war, and over the presence of the American troops, is shown in the following news items, taken from a recent issue of a Paris (France) daily paper:

"Paris has never been so enthusiastic about American soldiers as it showed itself to be when lorries filled with the soldiers from overseas crossed the city on their way to the front. The Americans were pelted with flowers and cheered as the automobiles passed down the main boulevard."

"President Poincare has received from an American farmer a letter containing $50 and the explanation that the money, one-tenth of his worldly possessions, is to pay part of the debt of the United States to Gen. LaFayette. The incident has evoked great enthusiasm in the French press."

Marrying for money is no worse than marrying for poverty.

DEATHS.

BRIERLY.

—Mrs. J. W. Briery, a former resident of this county, died Wednesday at her home near Rose Hill in Nicholas county, after a long illness. The funeral and burial was held yesterday at the Jackson Cemetery in this county.

CUMMINS.

—The funeral of Mr. James Cummins, whose sudden death from apoplexy while at work on his farm, was told in Tuesday's issue of THE NEWS was held Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, at the residence on the Hume and Bedford pike, near Paris. Services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. The burial followed on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were John G. Towles, Wm. W. Hall, Forrest Letton, R. D. Adair, J. H. McGinnis and Sanders Perkins.

MILEY.

—The burial of Mrs. Katie Bryan Miley, who died at her home in Georgetown last week, was held in the Paris Catholic Cemetery, Monday. Funeral services were held in Georgetown on Monday morning at St. John's Catholic church.

Mrs. Miley was born near Millersburg, and was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Patrick White, of Bourbon county. She was a sister of Senator M. T. Bryan, of Washington, D. C., and the late Lieut.-Governor Jas. W. Bryan.

Senator Bryan came to Paris to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Miley was sixty-nine years old. She is survived by her husband, Thomas Miley, and three children, John White, of Lexington; Harry White, of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. Thos. Brewster, of Perth Amboy, New Jersey.

REBUILDING THE WAR CRIPPLE.

New and ingenious appliances have been contrived, some of the best of these by the war cripples themselves, to enable the one-armed man to handle tools. At the vocational school at Montpelier, France, a grip has been designed which holds a tool in any desired position. A similar modification of this permits a workman to hold a tool in the three positions in which the screw-driver, hammer and file respectively are held. In order that a one-armed turner may drill a hole, there is a socket fitted with springs by means of which the handle of the tool may be firmly grasped. By the invention of a special gauntlet for the use of men with musculo-spinal paralysis, one carpenter was enabled to go back to his trade and two men who were studying designing could use their instruments as handily as uninjured men.

Often, however, an arm-stump can be so strengthened that the workman lays his complicated artificial arm aside, getting along better with what natural strength and skill remains to him. Men who have lost their right arm are taught to use their left. In certain German schools a four or five weeks' course in training the left hand is given them before they are permitted to enter a trade-course. The teachers in such classes are themselves one-armed and the instruction includes dressing, feeding, shaving, writing, drawing, the use of simple tools, gymnastics and sports. One expert recommends that jugglers be engaged to assist in teaching the one-handed.—Douglas C. McMurtrie, in American Industries.

HOW ENGLISH GROWS.

If English speaking people of today do not talk more than their ancestors it is not for lack of a vastly increased number of words in which to convert their thoughts. The first English dictionary, published three centuries ago, contained 5,050 words; the most recent more than 450,000. Samuel Johnson's famous compilation, which appeared in 1755, listed 50,000 and was considered a marvel of erudition, but it was far exceeded by Noah Webster's American dictionary, first published in 1828, which included 160,000 words.

It is estimated that the English language, which is spoken by more people than any other European tongue, is now growing at the rate of 5,000 words a year, for, besides slang and technical terms, it borrows from all tongues. The war alone will undoubtedly add many thousands. The first of the world's dictionaries was, of course, a Chinese work, and was perfected about 1100 B. C. by Pao-tshe.
